Twenty Ways to Defuse Anger and Calm People Down

Someone erupts and others are left speechless. Disputes bring things almost to a halt, classroom performance suffers, morale is low and teamwork evaporates. The good news is that you can manage other people's anger and turn it into a catalyst for positive change. This workshop will give you twenty specific techniques you will find priceless!

Professional Development

Workshop Session I

9:40—10:40 a.m.

Mrs. Robin Spires
Grace Daycare
West Columbia, SC

Busy Babies

During their first year, babies start to develop skills they will use for the rest of their lives. Do you know what those skills are and how we as caregivers can promote healthy development? The focus of this workshop will be on the physical growth and development of children from birth to age two.

Growth & Development

Stewards of Children (Part 1)

This workshop, developed by Darkness to Light, is a prevention and response program which teaches adults how to prevent, recognize and react responsibly to child sexual abuse. This two-hour evidence-based workshop provides awareness as well as tools for organizations to help develop policies and procedures for child sexual abuse prevention. Participants who complete both hours of the training program will be awarded a certificate of completion.

Stop Procrastinating and Confront That Problem Employee

You cannot afford a teacher or staff member that drags down morale, hinders progress and diverts attention away from your important goals. From this workshop, you will take back to your school proven strategies to win cooperation without incurring resentment. With the improved communication and camaraderie, the person will thank you, your whole staff will thank you, and they will marvel at your leadership skills.

Nonverbal Communication

Professional Development

When we interact with others, we continuously give and receive unspoken signals. Do you know what your nonverbal body language is saying to others? Do you know what others are saying to you with their unspoken language? The ability to understand and use nonverbal communication, or body language, is a powerful tool that can help you connect with others, express what you really mean, and build better relationships. This workshop will help you become a better communicator by recognizing and understanding the importance of your unspoken body language.

What Are We Looking for?

Professional Development

We are all so different! Each of us has strengths and skills to share. And when we link our individual strengths together, we make a great team. How great your school is depends on its employees. The essential piece is you! This workshop will help you to understand what qualities employers are looking for and how to be that essential piece.

Closing
